

Declaration by Authors

To be signed and emailed to declaration[at]jar-online.net at the point of submission to the Journal for Artistic Research.

I/we hereby declare that:

The material in the submission to the journal is original, authored by myself/ourselves and not previously published or currently submitted for publication elsewhere.

Where sections of text have been repurposed from previously published material authored by myself/ourselves (including as part of a PhD or undergraduate thesis), I/we have adequately drawn attention to this in an email to the managing editor*.

I/we have correctly acknowledged my/our sources and avoid plagiarism and misappropriation of intellectual property. I/we have taken due care to reference and cite appropriately the informing ideas, texts and concepts of others, used in the presented research. The submission contains no unattributed textual copying of the work of others and does not seek to mislead the reader/viewer about authorship of the material.

Where generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) has been employed in the submission, whether in the writing or rewriting of text, the practice presented or in the research method used, I/we have adequately drawn attention to this in an email to the managing editor*.

Audio-visual material used within the submission is properly credited and, where necessary the appropriate permission has been attained. Where licenced and copyrighted data is cited, I/we comply with originators' data-licencing agreements in regards to its use.

1	Author name/s and Signature/s:

More detail on our policies on originality, pre-publication, PhD research, plagiarism and use of artificial intelligence can be found here: https://www.jar-online.net/en/submissions

*For provision of specific details on repurposing of previously published material and use of AI, add descriptions of these in the email when you send this form to the managing editor. The address for this purpose is declaration[at]jar-online.net